

Libra Case Study

Keith Lewis¹

¹Libra Joint Project Team

ABSTRACT

Integration is a core success criterion for the Libra Project in Brazil. Since its inception, the project team design was created to foster interdisciplinary integration. This included an integrated applied technology program focused on technology adoption and development. This presentation outlines the integrated technology development process for Libra and the critical technologies that are being developed by the Libra Project Team.