Discoveries from the Up-Dip Expansion of the SCOOP Play

Drew Thomas[1]

[1]Casillas Petroleum Corp

ABSTRACT

Eastward expansion of the SCOOP horizontal play has begun and data is being collected to understand and quantify risk associated with development in and around the Golden Trend Field. The issues of reservoir pressure, product type, reservoir productivity, and fault hazards have been poorly understood in this part of the play. This talk will present production, core, log and pressure data collected during a twelve month horizontal drilling program that was designed to test these properties in the Woodford and Springer Formations.